

German Church Leaders Offer Differing Views on Pope Leo's LGBTQ+ Remarks

Positive and negative reactions to Pope Leo XIV's widely-publicized interview with U.S. journalist Elise Anne Allen are beginning to surface in Germany, reports Katholische.de.

The German branch of We Are Church, an international church reform group which has LGBTQ+ equality as one of its primary issues, called the pope's position "extremely disappointing," before adding that it "does not correspond to the reality of life."
